

KIMONO TRAINING SUIT

The kimono training suit is the most protective suit for full bite training over the whole body. The suit is specially designed for training on the body area.

The suit has a special cut to let dogs bite easier and safer on the front and back of the shoulder area.

By its high protection level is the suit not only very useful for sport training. It is also very popular with law enforcement and army forces.

